About KAT Exploration, Inc. engages in the exploration of mineral properties primarily in Canada. It primarily explores for gold, copper, and silver. The company's main focus has been on Sediment-Hosted Stratiform Copper Deposits in the eastern portion of the province. Although copper is one of our focuses, the company has a greater interest in gold properties in and around the central area of the province. One of these is the Handcamp property area that has thus far provided high grade gold numbers as high as 158 g/t. With the discovery of Rare Earth Elements(REE) on our 100% owned "Rusty Ridge" property, the company will expand it's focus in this area as well. With the dramatic rise in gold, copper and silver, the company feels that its focus is in the right areas and will proceed to bring its properties to their full potential.
